

Welcome to the start of 2021, the second year of _____ . Even though we can't predict (your preferred hell metaphor)

the future, we can get a feel for the wacky stuff that lies ahead. Possibilities include:

The _____ will print a minimum of four pieces in the summer about _____'s (well-known newspaper outlet) (female politician) _____ choices. The CEO of My Pillow will _____ a _____ in the (item of clothing) (verb) (noun)

headquarters of _____, before _____ with the Declaration of Independence.
(company name) (verb ending in -ing)

Ghosts will _____ in the _____ and enact revenge for _____ by (verb) (prominent house of government) (historical miscarriage of justice)

_____. Dr. Fauci will enter a national _____ eating (verb ending in -ing) (prominent lawmaker) (type of food)

competition and _____, thus kick-starting his supervillain origin story. The Dow Jones (lose/win)

Industrial Average will _____ by _____, and the banks will (increase/decrease) (large numerical amount) _____ all over the place. _____ will run for office. President Joe Biden will (verb) (Instagram influencer)

pioneer _____ diplomacy with _____. The earth will _____ and (noun) (country in the Middle East) (violent verb) _____ will erupt from its gooey center and onto the streets of _____.

(mythical creature plural) (well-known city)

Followers of _____ will _____ on _____. You will get into (conspiracy theory) (verb) (holy site)

_____. Your friends will slowly distance themselves from you because of your smelly (obscure philosophical theory)

_____. After you are vaccinated, you will do the _____ in _____ (body part) (dance move) (prominent club)

and be the life of the dance floor. There will eventually be _____ phases of vaccine rollout.
(number) _____ will finally have his bar mitzvah. A new mutation of _____ will cause (Male celebrity) (vegetable) widespread _____. Twitter will _____. I might have _____.

(disease common among sailors) (explosive verb) (ADD/ADHD)